RICHMOND STATION

January 18, 2018

Captain Alexa O'Brien
Commanding Officer
Richmond Station

CAPTAIN'S MESSAGE:

Richmond District,

As I'm sure many of you have seen on TV and read in the news, auto break-ins have been on the rise over the past few years. In an effort to stem this increase in crime, the Officers of Richmond Station have implemented foot and bicycle patrols in the most affected areas. These increased patrols serve two purposes, acting as a visual deterrent to would be thieves and better positioning officers to apprehend suspects.

Across the city, each of the 10 SFPD district stations will now have a plain clothes team of officers dedicated to the reduction of property crimes. Officers assigned to the plain clothes team will be working to identify potential auto burglars and apprehend them before they damage vehicles and take people's property. These officers will focus on the hardest hit areas, and while you may not see them, they will be watching out for thieves!

Residents of the Richmond District have been clear about the impact auto break-ins are having on their quality of life, and the Officers of Richmond Station have heard you loud and clear. We are committed to doing everything we can to take the individuals responsible for these crimes into custody.

San Francisco Police Recover Skates and Figure Skating Dresses Stolen in January 8th Auto Burglary

On January 8, 2018 at approximately 8:00PM, an auto burglary occurred on the 1600 block of Webster Street, in San Francisco. During this incident, a suitcase containing figure skating dresses and ice skates belonging to professional ice skater were stolen.

The Department began an investigation after the victim filed an online report. District Station personnel located evidence that provided several leads in the investigation that was performed by the Burglary Detail.

On January 14, 2018 at approximately 4:45PM, members of Central Police Station's Street Crimes Unit conducted an investigation which produced additional information leading investigators to recover the stolen figure skating dresses and ice skates. The Department is working to reunite the victim with her property.

This recovery of the stolen items was a combined effort of the SFPD Investigations Bureau, Burglary Detail and District Station personnel and is part of the Department's ongoing strategy to reduce auto burglaries. This strategy includes the "Park Smart" crime prevention program, intended to educate the public about not leaving valuables in parked cars. SFPD District Station captains and the Burglary Detail have been working with community and business groups to educate the public on crime prevention strategies aimed at reducing auto burglaries.

In addition to crime prevention efforts, the Department has almost doubled the number of foot beat officers whose mission is to help deter crime, make arrests and further educate their local communities regarding crime prevention tips.
